At Board of Trade Luncheon

Shortage of Seed Wheat Next Spring Is Feared

Over 100 town and district residents were present at the luncheon meeting of the Vulcan and District Board of Trade, held Wednesday of last week in the I. O. O. F. hall, when the guest speaker was F. G. Jamieson of Edmonton, who addressed the meeting on the subject of Civil Defence.

Organization of civil defence, on both provincial and municipal scales, was discussed by Mr. Jamieson in his informative address.

See Seed Wheat Shortage

Unsatisfactory harvest conditions this fall have resulted in less than eight per cent of the district's crop being harvested to date. Grain still on the ground, swathed or standing, is expected to be of low quality when it is finally harvested and will not likely be suitable for use as seed wheat.

Discussion of these factors resulted in the sending of a resolution from the meeting to the Canadian Wheat Board, requesting that all wheat at present in local elevators and of a quality suitable for seed purposes be held here until such time as sufficient high quality seed for next spring is assured. A shortage of about 100,000 bushels of seed wheat at present confronts district farmers and the situation is considered serious.

Heavy Duck Damage

A resolution sent from the meeting to both provincial and Dominion governments asked that all restrictions on the shooting of ducks in the Vulcan area be lifted until the ducks have moved south.

With swathed grain in practically every field, and open water at Lake McGregor, millions of mallard ducks which have normally moved south by this time of the year have stayed in the district and are still ravaging crops. The ducks are now ranging as far as 30 miles from the lake and much of their feeding is done at night, with the result that many farmers have suffered considerable loss of swathed grain and some fields with an expected yield of 40 to 50 bushels per acre are now a total loss.

Farm Fire Safety

The Alberta Safety Council's farm fire safety display was exhibited at the meeting and the various precautions to take against fire on the farm outlined.

J. M. Jamieson, president of the Vulcan Board of Trade, was chairman of the meeting.

Newspapers consistently fight corruption and incompetence in government.

To Speak In Vulcan Friday Night

Appearing Friday night, Nov. 23, at 7.30 in the Vulcan Armories, sponsored by the Christian Men's Club, is Harry Bucalstein, an internationally known converted Jewish priest. Mr. Bucalstein is one of the world's living direct descendants of Aaron, the first high priest of the Jewish religion and brother to Moses, the great Jewish lawgiver.

Born in Poland just after the turn of the century, he spent the early years of his life in Russia under persecution. Just before coming to America in 1913 his home was mobbed during the Passover feast with the intent to kill because they were Jews, and by a miracle the mob was dispersed by a Roman Catholic priest.

After coming to America he accidentally visited the Christian Witness To Israel in New York and heard the story of Christ which, after three months of study and thinking, he accepted.

Pioneer Resident, Mrs. Z. C. Deal Dies

Vulcan district lost an old-timer in the passing of Mrs. (Mary) Zebbie Deal, at her home in Calgary, Thursday, Nov. 15, at the age of 72 years.

Born in Springfield, Ill., in 1879, she moved with her husband in 1906 to homestead in the Vulcan district, where they continued to reside until 1944 when they retired to make their home in Calgary.

Mrs. Deal was baptized in the Christian church, Springfield, early in life. She was active in community work, being a charter member of the Thigh Hill W.I. and formerly a member of the Vulcan United Church.

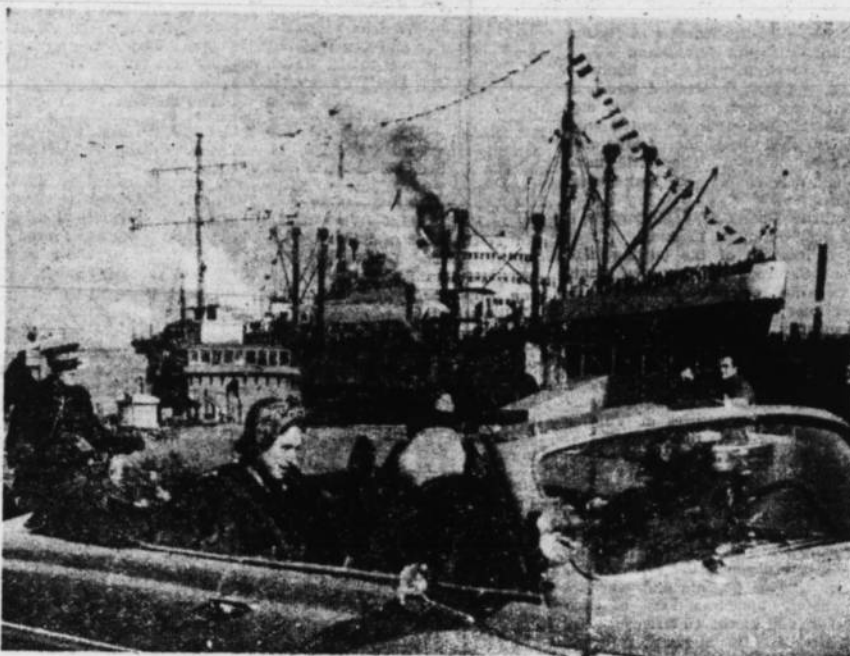

Funeral services were conducted Monday from Leyden's Chapel of Remembrance, with Rev. Bonney officiating. Burial was made in the Union cemetery. Pallbearers were: O. B. Roe, H. B. Ulrich, I. Lundgren, R. L. Elves, G. L. Clifford and M. L. Clarkson.

Surviving are her husband, Zebbie; two daughters, Mrs. William Salvage, Sundre, and Mrs. Homer Weaver, Edmonton; three sons, Earl and Roy, Vulcan, and Howard of Cranbrook, B.C.; three sisters in Illinois; 11 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Home and School Officers Elected

The regular meeting of the Vulcan Home and School Association held Tuesday evening was well attended. Featuring the business session was the election of officers for the ensuing year, with the following slate being returned by acclamation: President, Mrs. Clay Snow; vice-president, Charles Northcott; secretary, Mrs. Harold Bride; program committee, Mrs. C. J. Robinson, John Jamieson, Mrs. Reg. Stein and Mrs. Dave Schierman. Mrs. Ed Roebuck was named as the Membership convener, while Mrs. J. Hunter and Mrs. D. Hyslop were appointed to the lunch committee.

Following the conclusion of business matters parents divided into groups and visited the different class rooms, where teachers outlined the course of studies and answered questions. Lunch was served by Miss McIntyre, Home Economics teacher, and her class.

NAUTICAL BACKDROP

The Canadian Pacific's 9,000-ton immigrant passenger vessel Beaver forms a nautical backdrop for the visit made to Canadian

Vickers at Montreal by Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh on the Montreal leg of the royal tour. Formerly the German ship Huascaran, the Beaver carries over 700 new Canadians from all parts of Europe to this country on each of her voyages. She was in drydock for her annual overhaul when the Royal Visit occurred.

Hold Dances Both Nights

Plans Completed For Annual Turkey Shoot

"The biggest and best turkey shoot in Southern Alberta" is the billing given the Vulcan Lions Club annual turkey shoot, which will this year be held on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 31 and Dec. 1, in the Vulcan Armories.

A plentiful supply of the finest government-graded A-1 fresh-killed turkeys has been assured and other preparations for the big event are well advanced.

Trap shooting and rifle shooting will begin at 1 p.m. on each of the two days. Trapshooters are to bring their own shotguns and the special load ammunition can be purchased on the grounds. Both expert and luck targets will be used for the rifle shooting, which will be in charge of Charlie Andrews. Clay Snow is in charge of the trap-shooting.

Another feature of the turkey shoot, looked forward to every year, is pitch, and all the county's expert pitch players are expected to show up for a try at winning their Christmas turkeys. C. J. Robinson will again be in charge of this department.

Bingo is always a popular feature of the turkey shoot and will be played both nights starting at 7 o'clock, under the management of Pat Thomson.

Merv McIntyre is in charge of the dances. Friday night the popular Turley orchestra of Nanton will provide the music and on Saturday night a free dance will be held with the local Wheat Kings orchestra on the stage.

"Turkey cards" always provide some lucky winners with the big birds and Cliff McAskill will be in charge of this feature.

Earl Erickson is general manager of the shoot this year. The facilities afforded by the Vulcan Armories contribute much to the success of the shoot in that the various means of entertainment can all be held at the one place. The trap shooting is held alongside the big building, rifle shooting in the indoor range in the basement, bingo in the banquet room, pitch in a small lecture room, the kitchen facilities are available for the serving of lunches and coffee, and the dances are held in the spacious hall on the main floor.

All can participate in the big turkey shoot with the assurance of the best facilities available, the best turkeys money can buy and that this is the best opportunity to help the Lions in their community work.

The Weather

A small amount of combining was done in the area east and south of Vulcan early this week but a light snowfall Tuesday night has again brought operations to a halt. The weather on Wednesday was clear and cold.

Improve Legion Plot At Cemetery

At the regular general meeting of the Vulcan Branch, Canadian Legion, held Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, a report on work being done on the Legion plot at the cemetery was given by A. G. Scott. Work on the plot is expected to be completed this spring.

Improvement of recreational facilities was discussed and it was decided to set up a dart room for the use of members. The secretary was also instructed to subscribe for four additional magazines.

The executive was instructed by the meeting to raise what funds are necessary to meet the financial needs of the Vulcan Cadet Corps, which is sponsored by the local branch of the Canadian Legion.

It was decided to again co-operate with the Elks and Lions in sponsoring the annual free show and treats for the children of Vulcan and district.

Thanks was extended to all those who had helped in making the Remembrance Day service and parade a success.

There was a good attendance at the meeting and branch president O. M. Roe was chairman.

Newlyweds Will Live At Vulcan

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's United Church in Calgary, when Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Evans of Rocky Mountain House, exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Frank Love, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifford Love of Vulcan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Simons.

Miss Evans chose for her wedding a cocktail length dress of dusky rose lace over taffeta with matching chapel veil. She carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Gladys, who wore a mauve cocktail length dress of lace and net over taffeta with matching headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow mums, and pink carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Mr. Robert McAskill of Calgary.

Following the ceremony the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Robert McAskill, entertained the wedding party and a few close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Love left by motor for a honeymoon in the U.S. For travelling the bride wore a grey gabardine dressmaker suit with navy blue accessories.

On their return the newlyweds will reside near Vulcan.

Organized Seven Years Ago

Charter Members of Lions Club Honored

Charter members of the Vulcan Lions Club were honored at the regular supper meeting held Monday evening in the Armories and acting as chairman for the evening was George Davey of Calgary, first president of the Vulcan Lions.

Roll call of charter members showed the following to be still living in Vulcan and members of the club: Mary McIntyre, Albert Collier, Boyd McKay, Stan Scales, Cay Snow, Alf Sales, C. J. Robinson, Budd Andrews, John Mitchell, Charlie Northcott, Dr. Dave Nicol, Fred Anderson.

Tribute to the charter members was paid by Past President John Jamieson, who said they had founded a club, got it off to a good start, attracted good members and in seven years had undertaken and accomplished many projects for the good of the town and district.

Among other guests at the meeting was Past District Governor Gordon Sorenson of Red Deer, who had been present at the first charter night of the Lions Club in Vulcan and had handed the charter to George Davey.

In a few brief remarks, Mr. Davey expressed his pleasure at being able to attend the meeting and noted the many improvements that had come to Vulcan since he resided here from 1940 to 1945. He expressed the thought that possibly the undertaking of and successful completion by the Lions Club of the swimming pool project had introduced a progressive spirit into the town, and into other clubs and municipal bodies, with the result that Vulcan not only now has one of the finest swimming pools in the province, but other improvements have followed in rapid succession. In this category he mentioned the Elks Memorial Park, the water and sewer facilities installed by the town, the large additions to the hospital and the school and the new curling rink, Vulcan, he said, was known throughout the province as a wide-awake and progressive town.

Wing Commander Arthur H. Warner, former Vulcan man who is now chief engineer officer of North West Air Command of the R.C.A.F. at Edmonton, was a guest at the meeting.

W.C. Warner has just returned from a 25,000 mile air trip to Japan and Korea and his informal talk on his experiences during the trip and impressions of conditions in Japan, Korea and such intermediate points as Wake Island proved extremely interesting and was greatly appreciated.

The entertainment which brought a very enjoyable evening to a close. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Clifford Webber and Mrs. Arthur Cutforth.

The December meeting will be held on the 14th at the home of Mrs. Howard Spaeth. Members are reminded to bring their Xmas gifts for their Polly Annas.

Name a Press Reporter

Every year about this time we like to remind the various organizations of the town and district which are now nominating and electing their officers for the coming year to appoint a press reporter.

Every organization whose meetings and activities are of interest to the general public should have a press secretary whose job is to see that the activities of the club or association he or she represents receive the proper publicity.

Some organizations co-operate admirably in this respect. Others expect the newspaper to have a reporter at every one of their meetings and to constantly keep in touch with their activities—a job well nigh impossible when one stops to think how many organizations there are in Vulcan and district.

The Advocate does its best to cover the more important meetings or to arrange for coverage, but limitations of staff and time must be considered. A meeting that may take two or three hours may only rate a short space in the paper, and yet we would like to have that meeting reported. The co-operation of organizations in naming press reporters would make this possible.

Such a reporter should try to give unbiased and accurate reports of meetings and activities and should get his reports in to the newspaper office promptly so the value of timely publicity won't be lost. Pick the best person you can to do the job and have him or her turn in the news of your meetings and activities Monday or Tuesday of each week.

We'll rewrite it if necessary—all we need is the facts—and we'll really appreciate your co-operation.

Car Dealers Off Hook

New car dealers who have been going grey lately as inventories mounted and demand dropped, heaved a big sigh of relief recently, states The Financial Post.

The freezing of car styles as of 1952 means most dealers won't have to worry about carrying stocks of cars outdated by new models.

Of the Big Three, only Ford is making a model change this year. But just about all were planning on major face-lifting on 1953 models.

Unless business picks up or supply falls off, that could have been quite a problem. The minute a restyled model comes out, dealers figure on a substantial markdown on the stock they have on hand.

It's Chicken Supper Time

Where and how chicken suppers evolved we don't know. Maybe farm women organizations—like all groups—wanted to make money, and one of the cheapest methods they could think of was throwing an old-fashioned shindig, with lots of "grub" and plenty of willing hands ready to serve it. It was perhaps a natural for rural areas, where chickens could be readily obtained and where women have become used to cooking for many hungry farm workers at one time.

It was a happy idea, wherever it originated. They say one of the easiest ways to satisfy a man is to work through his stomach, and chicken suppers are the ultimate in support of this technique. Right now, the famous fall chicken suppers are in full swing in the Lacombe district.

There are those long rows of tables, neatly arranged in the hall, and positively chuck full of delicious piping-hot chicken and accessories. Belying the high cost of living is the knowledge that you can pile in at the dinner table and eat just as much as you like. No extra charge for that second helping, no timid query of a waitress, "May I have another cup of coffee?" Just dig for more, and no questions asked.

It's a wonderful feeling, and chicken suppers are a wonderful institution. More power to our good farm women who make them possible! —Lacombe Globe

Poor Appearance of Registered Seed

Almost all Registered seed will be of poor appearance this year, but seed quality has nothing to do with appearance. Registered seed of poor appearance still contains all the essential qualities, is of high germination, so will produce a good true-to-variety crop.

Need Gravelled Roads

Ensign, Alta.

Editor, The Advocate.
Dear Sir:

It was with interest I read Mr. Leslie's letter in the Oct. 25th issue of the Advocate. I would suggest the Council have the school van routes gravelled before building more schools, so the children could get to the schools already built. Where will the councillors get the money? Why, from the money they have been collecting from the taxpayer for the last number of years, of course. It's very simple. Use it for the good of the taxpayer, I would suggest.

Anyone with a bit of sense knows a graded road is no market road or anything else when it is muddy, so let's see others' opinions in regard to our children having to miss school on account of muddy roads.

ONE IN TEN

A million Canadians now have jobs in manufacturing. Ten per cent of these are in the primary textile industry. (The latest Dominion Bureau figures are 1,080,000 in manufacturing and 104,000 of these in primary textiles.)

Besides leading all other Canadian industries in numbers employed in manufacturing, primary textiles also is way ahead in the size of its payroll. It is up among the leaders in providing jobs for women and in being well spread out through the smaller communities.

Dominion Textile is a considerable part of this basic textile industry.

Johnny Rhodes and son Charles, were unfortunate in having an accident, south of High River, Tuesday, Nov. 13. They were on their way to Calgary in their light delivery truck. Roads were very slippery, and when Charles braked the truck on Riley hill it went out of control and turned over in the ditch. Mr. Rhodes sustained two broken ribs and cracked sternum bone, and Charles received a gash on his forehead, requiring stitches. Neither had to remain in hospital.

Fashion Show

Brant, Blackie and Ensign folks turned out Friday evening to observe at first hand the Brant men folk modelling the latest in women's fashions. The men were good sports, and went through their paces like professionals, only one or two looking a bit self-conscious at their re-modelled figures.

Alf Lawson, Gordon Thompson and Benny Ball modelled bathing suits, and Alf won the beauty contest held among the three. A few boos were heard from some who didn't seem to think Alf was a bit beautiful in his 1900 bathing suit.

The play titled "There Comes a Time", put on by the High School pupils was also very entertaining, and all-in-all, the evening was a howling success.

Dancing to the music of a record player, followed till midnight.

Miss Marion Auld, who played piano accompaniment for the models, had the honor of receiving the Governor General's medal for Grade IX marks the same evening.

The medal was presented to her by Mr. Laverty of High River, who commended her highly, for her good work, also giving her parents, and all her teachers due credit. It was the first time a Brant pupil had won the medal.

Summerfallow Treatments

An experiment on the effect of date of starting fallow operations on yield of wheat was started at the Swift Current Experimental Station in the fall of 1946. Previous to starting this experiment, the land had been well farmed in a two-year rotation of fallow-crop, with the result that weed growth was not a serious menace to crop production.

The dates of starting summerfallow operations and the four-year average yields of wheat per acre obtained, are as follows:

1. Blade stubble early fall, keep clean during fallow year—18.6 bushels.
2. One-way stubble early fall, keep clean during fallow year—16.7 bushels.
3. Start cultivation as early as possible in spring—16.7 bushels.
4. Start cultivation May 15, keep clean during the remainder of year—16.6 bushels.
5. Start cultivation June 1, keep clean during the remainder of year—16.4 bushels.
6. One-way cultivation June 15, keep clean during the remainder of year—14.8 bushels.
7. Plow June 15, keep clean during the remainder of year—15.9 bushels.
8. Start cultivation June 30, keep clean during remainder of year—14.4 bushels.

It will be noted that blading the stubble early in the fall previous to summerfallow, has produced practically 2 bushels per acre more wheat on an average than land worked with the one-way at the same time or on land where fallow operations were started as early as possible in the spring. Furthermore, the later the date of starting fallow operations, the lower the yield of wheat obtained.

The differences in yield as shown above can be attributed largely to two factors. First, to differences in the amount of moisture conserved on the fallow and secondly, to differences in the amount of weed growth in the crop.

Fall blading, which loosens the soil and leaves the stubble in an upright position, has shown the highest moisture conservation of all the treatments. Although one-way discing in the fall has not conserved moisture particularly, this treatment as well as the fall blade treatment have produced crops that were relatively free of weeds each year.

The difference in yields between the other treatments, except the plow June 15, reflect fairly closely the amount of weed growth present at the time of working the land for the first operation and the amount of weed growth in the crop.

In this connection Mr. Janzen comments that there has been a noticeable increase in the weed population, particularly stinkweed, in the plots where the first operation has been delayed until after June 1. This increase in weeds will eventually tend to widen the difference in yield between the various dates of starting fallow operations.

Care Of Pullets

Keep those pullets in good condition, advises F. J. Higginson, Acting Poultry Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture. Usually, when pullets are first housed in the fall there is a tendency for them to eat less food. Birds bred to lay are usually growing when they first come into production. They are doing two things at one time, producing and growing. If they are deprived of adequate nutrition when performing these two functions they will draw on their reserve of fat to continue to lay and will get out of condition very easily. The result is a full or partial moult.

Body condition and weight must, therefore, be maintained during the early months of production if fall moult is to be avoided. As soon as this condition is noticed, feed a daily ration of boiled barley dried off with mash. Two to three pounds of barley weighed dry is sufficient for 100 pullets.

This feed is relished by the birds and will build up body weight rapidly. Feed this for about a month, or until the birds have reached their normal weight and natural appetites have returned. Then gradually discontinue, but keep whole grain, preferably wheat and oats, in hoppers before them at all times as well as the regular laying mash.

Do not be afraid of your pullets becoming too fat with this method of feeding. Only birds that are poor producers will get in that condition and these should be culled and marketed immediately.

PLANT TREES

Make the Dugout

Less digging should be experienced in growing trees near the dugout than in any other location in the Prairie Provinces, because a savings of several months' growth should result. Says John Carter, superintendent, Forest Nursery Station, Indian Head, Sask.

Keeping in mind that the chief function of the dugout is to provide a source of water there are several important reasons why trees should be planted near it.

Trees planted near the dugout: 1. Help to reduce evaporation of moisture and bring up water through wind action.

2. Increase its appearance when well watered.

3. Assist in improving conditions of soil and the water in the dugout.

4. Provide shade for the dugout and the water in the dugout.

5. Reduce the amount of water lost by evaporation.

It is generally agreed that a dugout should be well watered, preferably good covered, should have a concrete or stone curb and the water should be allowed to develop among the trees. Slope of land, location and size of dugout and crops grown in adjoining land, must be considered in the exact extent and location for the trees is decided upon. Soil preparation should be careful and thorough, as recommended for other farm tree planting projects.

grow rapidly, yield an early harvest or fulfill any of the objectives already listed, may be planted. Planting distances between rows, and between trees in rows, will be governed by the specific objective aimed at from tree planting. Ease of keeping weeds in check and maintaining vigorous growth of trees should be considered most carefully.

It is unwise to rely on subsoil moisture to the exclusion of proper preparation of soil before planting, and adequate care of trees and control of weeds after planting. Only under exceptional conditions should trees near a dugout be pruned.

Calfhood Vaccination . . .

Dr. E. E. Ballantyne, Director of Veterinary Services, Alberta Department of Agriculture, says that during the past two years the heavy period of calfhood vaccination against Bang's disease has been during the months of November and December. All cattle owners desiring vaccination of their calves should advise their veterinarian, district agriculturist or agricultural service board well in advance, so that the work may be done when the veterinarian is in their district. This will prevent overlapping of trips and possible delay.

Every cattleman should adopt a plan of yearly vaccination of all heifer calves, says Dr. Ballantyne. Calfhood vaccination has paid dividends to Alberta cattlemen, both ranchers and dairymen. A panel discussion at the last convention of the Alberta Dairymen's Association unanimously endorsed calfhood vaccination as a worthwhile and logical method of controlling Bang's disease. The Western Stock Growers Association has been supporting the calfhood vaccination program for years because it has proved its value in ranch herds.

Owners of clean herds should become more active, says Dr. Ballantyne. The man with the clean herd may lose thousands of dollars if Bang's disease gets into his herd. This loss can be prevented by building up Bang's resistance over a period of years by calfhood vaccination. The disease is quite widespread in Alberta. In 1950, 28,887 cattle were tested in the province. Results at the Provincial Veterinary Laboratory showed that 18 per cent of the approximately 4200 herds tested were infected. Owners of clean herds should be forewarned and protect their herds.

Transporting and Feeding Weed Seeds

Recently the Noxious Weeds Act was amended to include the transporting and feeding of weed seed screenings. These recent regulations state that screenings cannot be transported by anyone unless a permit to do so has been obtained from the Weed Inspector or Field Supervisor for the area, or from the Field Crops Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton. Farmers transporting screenings over their own or rented land do not require permits. These regulations were put into effect to minimize the scattering of weed seeds along the road allowances and over farm lands. Municipalities are responsible for the issuing of these permits within their own boundaries.

Any farmer or rancher living in an Improvement District or Special Area may apply for a permit to transport screenings from their local district Agriculturist. Where the applicant wishes to haul screenings before the permit reaches him from Edmonton, he may apply for an interim permit which is good for 7 days after the date of issue.

Before a permit is issued the applicant must agree to only move screenings in tight containers which will prevent them from being scattered during transit. No screenings shall be used as feed for livestock unless fed within a closed feed lot. Every person who has screenings in his possession or under his control shall keep them in buildings, bins or other containers so constructed that the screenings are securely confined therein.

Now is the time to get started on a program of calfhood vaccination for Bang's disease. Vaccinated heifers are worth more money because vaccination is a widely recognized control measure by all cattlemen. Calfhood vaccination has proved its worth a great number of times. It is a sound investment, as a cheap form of insurance against a heavy loss in income.

Anyone interested in having their calves vaccinated are asked to contact the local veterinarian or district agriculturist as soon as possible. If you have not sent in the blue card received in the mail, do so at your earliest convenience.

Seed May Be Scarce

Farmers who were unable to thresh enough grain of a quality and germination to be suitable for seed should attempt to make arrangements at an early date for their seed requirements. Arrangements made now or in the near future will save trouble and uncertainty at seeding time. If weather conditions remain as they have during the past fall, next spring will be an extremely busy one as most farmers will be attempting to seed and harvest their crops at the same time. There will be little time available then to find the necessary seed.

Grain that has undergone soaking, freezing and thawing will not likely be suitable for seed. A sample taken from a stook or swath is not a safe guide to the germinating ability of grain in that particular field.

It is never a good management practice to seed grain that has not been tested for germination. A germination test is more important than ever this year. Most elevator agents can make the necessary arrangements for a germination test. If this is not possible germination testing is done by the Plant Products Division, Immigration Bldg., Calgary. A sample sent to them should consist of two pounds and as far as possible be representative of the quantity desired for seed. The Plant Products charges 75 cents for their service, and the fee should accompany the sample. If grain is to be sold as seed an official test is essential.

Sheep Losses

Sheep losses were reported from Lethbridge recently and some enquiries have been received concerning the report. Mr. T. Kilduff, Research Extension Officer at Lethbridge was contacted to determine the details. Mr. Kilduff contacted Dr. Carney, a veterinarian at Lethbridge, concerning this matter. Dr. Carney reported that the sheep on postmortem were found heavily loaded with grain, and death was probably due to overfeeding disease, also known as "pulp kidney." This disease occurs more often in sheep than in cattle because they are more efficient at gathering up waste grain from stubble. When this disease becomes evident in the animal there is a general toxemia that seldom responds to treatment. Strain on the kidney brought on by the toxemia results in the condition described as "pulp kidney."

Newspapers selling for a penny apiece were originated in England in the 1830's.

Storing The Farm Tractor

A little care in preparing the farm tractor for winter storage will do much to prolong its life. The first thing, says C. A. Cheshire, Extension Agricultural Engineer, Alberta Department of Agriculture, is to clean it thoroughly of all grease, dirt and dust. Next, drain the crank case, flush and refill with clean oil, and operate the engine for a few minutes. Drain the radiator and flush the cooling system with a scale removing solution. A solution for this purpose can either be purchased or made at home with washing soda and soft water. If washing soda is used, add three pounds of washing soda to each seven gallons of water and operate the tractor with the shutters on the radiator partially closed until the mixture steams. The solution is then drained from the radiator, and the whole system flushed out with clean soft water. Leave the drain cocks open.

Next, remove the spark plugs and pour a cupful of oil into each cylinder, turn the engine over at least two revolutions by hand and then replace the spark plugs. Give the tractor a complete and thorough grease job and block the machine up to take the weight off the tires. Store in a protected place, or at least cover the tires. Use rust preventative grease or paint on any of the surfaces that have worn shiny. Drain all fuel from the tractor —this includes fuel tank, fuel lines, sediment bowl and carburetor. Cover the exhaust pipe and the breather cap to keep out rain, and possibly even birds. Be sure to remove the battery, charge it fully and store in a cool, dry place.

SURE, a trim new Buick makes a mighty pretty picture when you see it in your driveway, or watch it wheel by.

But if you could get a mechanic's-eye view of this big, broad beauty as it sits on a lift, you'd see an impressive picture of rugged brawn that makes Buicks give such a good account of themselves on the road.

You'd see the full-length torque-tube drive that firms the whole power relay system, and steadies your going like a giant hand beneath you.

You'd see all four wheels cushioned by stout coil springs that are completely service-free, practically breakproof—and a principal reason for the ever-level Buick ride.

But mainly, you'd see the massive foundation that backbones every Buick—the deep, wide, X-member frame that's rugged as a rock, and a brute for strength.

So when you look at the beauty of a Buick—the big mileage power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the money saving ability of its Dynaflo Drive—don't overlook the tough stamina that goes with it all.

And whether you're looking at a Buick CUSTOM, a Buick SUPER or a mighty ROADMASTER, don't overlook the fact that a '51 Buick, with all its heft, costs less per pound than any other car of comparable size, structure and weight.

Better come see us first chance you get—and find out what a smart buy this is—from every angle.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

- DYNAFLO DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car.
- FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head 8-cylinder engines. Roadmaster, 152 hp; Super 124 hp; Custom, 120 hp; Super and Custom with Dynaflo, 128 hp.
- PUSH-BAR FRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection.
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night.
- TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride; improves driving control.
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs.
- DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment.
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum.
- DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models.
- Plus Self-locking luggage lid, ShipOn parking brake, Two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other series.

A 100-YEAR OLD FARM SALE BILL

John Colwell, farmer from the Bellaire community and former county commissioner, brings the following sale bill published in 1849 to the Pioneer office. It was reproduced in a recent issue of John's home county paper, The Journal of Knoxville, Iowa. The items include: All ox teams save two—Buck and Ben, Tom and Jerry; 1 iron plow with wood moldboard; 900 to 1000 3-foot claspboards; 1500 ten-foot fence rails; 1 40-gallon soap kettle; 85 sugar troughs of white ash timber; 2 spinning wheels; 30 lbs. mutton tallow; 1 large loom made by Jerry Wilson; 100 empty barrels; one 32-gallon barrel of Johnston Moller whiskey, seven years old; 20 gallons of apple brandy; one 40-gallon still of oak tanned leather; 3 acythes and cradles; 1 dozen wooden pitchforks; one-half interest in tan yard; one 32-cal. rifle, one bullet mold and powder horn; 50 gal. soft soap; 6 head of fox hounds, all soft mouthed except one.

At the same time I will sell my six negro slaves—two men 35 and 50 years old, 2 boys, 12 and 18 years old, 2 mulatto wenches, 40 and 30 years old. Will sell altogether to one party as I will not separate them.—(From Dundalk, Ont., Herald.)
